Founder SuperNova / Managing Partner Smartfin

SuperNova Founder Jürgen Ingels is one of Belgium's most renowned top entrepreneurs and startup investors. As the founder of Clear2Pay, he cultivated the company to be one of the world leaders in payment software. In 2014, with more than 1,200 employees in 14 countries, Clear2Pay was sold to fintech giant FIS.

He is well-rooted as a venture capitalist, but remains a true entrepreneur at heart. His passion for technology is reflected through his creating role in important Belgian tech and innovation events.

Aside from having an active stake in various companies, he's also the author of "Start, Grow, Sell", a book that reveals 50 important lessons which he learned as a top entrepreneur. Moreover, he is the initiator of Space The Human quest, a space expo that attracted over 80.000 people to the city of Antwerp.

As Founding Partner of SmartFin, Jürgen is determined to target and enable the most promising European technology companies.
